

EUROPEAN AIRSHOW COUNCIL CODE OF ETHICS

To dedicate our efforts to achieving excellence in all aspects of the air show industry based on the recognition that air shows provide a significant form of global public entertainment.

To observe the highest standards of safety for public and participants alike.

To enforce all professional rules of conduct.

To apply all applicable laws and regulations.

To conduct all activities with the highest commitment to honesty and objectivity.

To provide clear and accurate information to all.

To promote the continuous improvement of professional air show standards through education and training

Supporting and Representing the Airshow Industry across Europe and further afield, to promote the very best in Aerial Entertainment, Safety and Excellence.

CONTACT US

charles@European-airshow.com

www.European-airshow.com

0044(0) 7894 725340

"Promoting Excellence and Safety in Airshows"

ABOUT THE EAC

MISSION

The European Airshow Council was formed by a group of like minded individuals from across Europe, who were involved within the Airshow Industry in differing roles. The sole mission of the EAC is to 'Promote Safety and Excellence within Airshows'. We do this through engagement within the industry, national and military regulatory bodies and industry partners, however our most important link is within our own, performers, organisers and supporters.

THE EAC BOARD

The Board is made up of volunteers from Belgium, France, Poland, Malta, The Netherlands, Czech Republic, Greece, Spain, Switzerland and the United Kingdom. All have a rich history and differing backgrounds in the Airshow Community.

CONVENTIONS

Each year the EAC hosts its annual Convention in one of the member countries, bringing together the European Airshow community, but also attendees from much further afield, with over 35 nations having been present since the organisations inception. The purpose is business, sharing best practice and safety, encouraging networking and development in the Airshow world.

The 2021 Convention will be held over the

The EAC is proud to work with

THE AIRSHOW INDUSTRY

Each year Millions of people travel to many hundreds of airshows across Europe to marvel at the wonders of aviation. From aerial ballet, noise, smells and pure entertainment, airshows have a huge value, in terms of tourism and economic benefit at local, national and international levels.

Education and capturing the minds of the public, promoting Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths are all huge benefits of air displays. Since the earliest days of hot air balloons, aviation has captured the hearts and minds of the human race, which still lives on to this day.

OUR WORK

We work throughout Europe to help and support the Airshow Industry in terms of developing safety, working with National and European Regulators to provide guidance and support and represent the European voice of airshows, providing technical advice and best practice.

We are pleased to be partners of many national representative bodies and internationally also including North America, China and South Africa. The EAC has proud to be including in consultations with EASA on shaping the future of pan European airshow regulation.

We are also pleased to have developed the worlds only Military Fast Jet Pilots Safety workshop for sharing of best practice.